

Kitchen Garden Gala

Celebrate spring gardening with us and create a kitchen garden for your porch or patio - and get all of your questions answered about growing edibles! A kitchen garden can be a small garden area near your kitchen door where it is easy to water, watch grow, and harvest for tasty meals. Or, a kitchen garden can be in a container, easily moved to a sunny spot on your porch or patio. We have seeds and plants perfect for small-space gardening, and traditional sized vegetable plants as well for your larger garden spaces.

Some of our available varieties for containers are:

‘Little Crunch’ Container Sugar Snap Peas (seeds or plants)

‘Container French Mascotte’ Bush Bean

‘Round Romeo’, ‘Bolero Nantes’, and ‘Circus-Circus’ Carrots (seed)

‘Green Curls’ and ‘Baby Leaf’ Container Kale (seeds or plants)

‘Container Bush Slicer’ Cucumber (seeds or plants)

‘Astia’ Container Zucchini – (seeds or plants) perfect for small space gardens, a large container, or raised bed

‘Super Bush’ Tomato – plants that are perfect for containers and small spaces, big flavor in a sturdy, bushy plant

In addition, we have many varieties of beans, tomato, pepper, eggplant, lettuce, arugula, kale, cabbage, kohlrabi, leek, broccoli, cauliflower, lovage, celeriac, rhubarb, asparagus and more!

New to gardening? Want to teach your kids to garden? Sometimes starting small is the best way to get your hands dirty and your thumbs green – little successes grow to big, tasty treats as the summer progresses. Shady Lane Greenhouse is the place to come to learn about all things gardening!

Dr. Patti Nagai will be available all day to answer your vegetable, fruit, and herb growing questions. Come visit in the vegetable house out by the perennials and learn about:

- o Growing veggies on your porch in containers
- o Mixing veggies with ornamental flowers
- o Safe gardening practices for kids
- o How to plan out your plantings for your small-space garden
